Vietnam Troop Deaths Run High

SAIGON (AP) — The Saigon government's total of battlefield dead reported for the past seven months is more than double that of American forces, reflecting what President Nguyen Van Thieu calls their "increasing share" of the war effort.

South Vietnamese casualties have been higher than those suffered by American troops for 39 consecutive weeks, from May 10 through Dec. 6, according to official casualty summaries.

During that period, 11,450 government soldiers and 4,907 Americans were reported killed in action.

During the first 19 weeks of the year, before the withdrawal of some 60,000 U.S. troops began, casualties were nearly equal, with 4,930 South Vietnamese and 4,292 Americans reported killed on the battlefield.

In the northern Mekong Delta, from which American in-countrymen were withdrawn last summer, a battalion of 500 South Vietnamese was taken by surprise at sunset Tuesday shortly after helicopters landed them in an area of palm groves and sugar cane fields to search out a Viet Cong battalion.

The government troops ran into mines, booby traps and a hail of machine gun fire that killed 20 men and wounded 33. Only two Viet Cong were known dead as the enemy pulled back in the dark.

In the past five weeks, South Vietnamese forces have been dealt at least four setbacks in the northern and central delta, with 113 of their men killed in those engagements and more than 100 wounded at a cost of only 16 Viet Cong known dead.

Viet Cong gunners shelled Saigon Tuesday for the first time in four months with a single 100-pound missile that landed in a group of houses adjacent to a hospital. Four civilians were wounded, one house was destroyed and two others were badly damaged.

My Lai News Ban Violated, Judge Claims

FORT BENNING, GA. (AP) — The military judge who will preside at the murder trial of 1st Lt. William L. Calley Jr. has asked for the investigation of two former GIs and five news organizations in connection with published discussions of the alleged My Lai massacre.

Lt. Col. Reid W. Kennedy directed Tuesday that the Justice Department be asked to investigate possible violations of his ban against discussion of the Calley case by potential witnesses and be asked to prosecute where warranted.

Kennedy cited four cases involving Herbert L. Carter and Ronald L. Haeblerle, both former soldiers, and the National Broadcasting Co., Life magazine, Time magazine, the Houston Chronicle and The Associated Press.

The judge's order to prosecutors in the case came during a pretrial hearing at which defense counsel asked that charges against Calley be dropped.

Tax Reform Confab Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — House and Senate conferees have settled about half their differences written into separate tax reform versions, but still face such sticky issues as the oil depletion allowance and increasing the personal income tax exemption.

These indications came on the third day of the conference to resolve about 400 variations between the tax measures passed by the two chambers.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., conference chairman, told newsmen the work is running ahead of schedule. He said the negotiators may have all their decisions made as early as Thursday night.

This could permit a final vote in the House by Saturday. But Monday appeared a more likely date. In either case, prompt Senate action was expected, releasing the legislators to go home for Christmas.

Tuesday's conference session stretched over 11 hours, with breaks for lunch and House and Senate roll calls. Members observed a secrecy agreement on decisions.

Most of the agreements reached so far apparently are on minor and technical matters, although Mills insisted "we have handled some of the tough ones."

One of these apparently was the limit on farm deductions by persons not primarily engaged in farming. Both versions of the bill as passed would apply only to relatively large amounts of farm income, but the method of limiting deductions against other income differs in the two.

Those changes would hike the bill by an estimated $15-17 million beyond the Senate's version if approved.

22-15 Senate Vote

The Senate approved parochial aid when it passed the school aid bill by a 22-15 vote late this fall. That drove opponents and supporters to further efforts in the House.

"I can feel their eyes boring into my back," said one House Democrat who consistently has opposed Ryan on the issue. Three Senate Democrats who oppose the constitutionality of the concept and the Senate's action in approving it without a two-thirds majority, took their case to court.

Injunction Ruled Out

A three-judge panel refused Tuesday in a terse, four-paragraph statement to order an injunction against receipt of Senate bill by T. Thomas Thatcher, clerk of the House.

The court apparently left the door open, however, for subsequent renewal of the charge by Sens. Roger Craig, Basil Brown and Coleman Young, all Detroit-area Democrats, that the bill has been improperly handled. Legislative prerogative allows them to appeal directly to the State Supreme Court or to go through channels to the court of appeals.

54 Favorable Votes?

One headcount of House inclinations, offered by a parochial opponent, indicated only 54 would support it. A pro-parochial tally, on the other hand, showed as many as 18 Republicans—twice as many as in May—now will vote for it, partly because Gov. William G. Milliken has included the plan in his education reform package.

Parochialism Not Dead Issue Yet

Pre-Holiday Showdown On Bill Foreseen

LANSING (AP) — Prompt action on parochialism was stalled in the Michigan house early today as Democrats and Republicans retreated into separate closed-door caucuses shortly after convening.

It was understood that leaders on both sides of the aisle had agreed to try to complete preliminary debate and voting on the bill by the end of today's session. That would position the bill for final action tomorrow or Friday.

The timetable could be upset by caucus positions hammered out in the meantime, however.

The vehicle for deciding the destiny of the $25-million pre-emptive plan to grant public monies to private and parochial schools was in Senate-approved, $1-billion-plus school aid bill for next year.

Speaker William A. Ryan, D-Detroit, for whom the issue has all but overshadowed other priorities, said the House hopefully would begin preliminary debate on some 60 recommended amendments to the Senate version by House Education and Appropriations Committees.

Those changes would hike the bill by an estimated $15-17 million beyond the Senate's version if approved.

Warning Issued On State Deficit

LANSING (AP) — Michigan faces a possible deficit of over one-half billion dollars by mid-1973 if current taxing and spending levels are maintained, says a business-sponsored research organization.

The Citizens Research Council of Michigan said that unless the state's revenue comes more in line with spending in the next few years, taxpayers could be in for "major increases in present tax rates or the imposition of new taxes."

Senate Taxation Chairman Harry DeMaso, R-Battle Creek, indicated the figures—which he asked the council to prepare—could mean a need to at least double the present state income tax levels.

Rep. Loren Anderson, R-

Pontiac, who worked with DeMaso on the statistical review, said the amount of income tax increase necessary to cover such a deficit would depend on what other taxing measures were enacted.

He cited pending legislation that would close so-called "tax loopholes" and enact a statewide property tax.

Anderson said he believed the Legislature was "going at this problem the wrong way."

Lawmakers now are working on tax measures that would, for all announced purposes, pay for increased costs of education that could be brought about by enactment of Gov. William Milliken's education reform proposals.

In reality, some lawmakers contend, the revenue proposals were put forth to pay a deficit that would exist whether or not the education package were approved by the House and Senate.

Senate Appropriations Chairman Charles O. Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, said earlier this fall that the state could wind up fiscal 1970-71 with a deficit of $240 million, providing parts of the Milliken package were approved.

Even without the governor's program, Zollar said, the state could face a $165 million deficit by mid-1971.

"It's evident to those of us in the fiscal area that there are two things to do," he said, mentioning a "hard line" on spending with cuts "in every conceivable manner consistent with state services. The other is obviously raising taxes."

Oil Import OK Could Reduce Prices In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential task force has all but wrapped up a series of recommendations which would drop the basic price of American oil by permitting a substantial increase in imports of cheaper foreign petroleum products.

Sources close to the cabinet-level task force say there are just two major decisions to be made before the recommendations go to the White House. The target date for delivery is Jan. 1, but it probably would be some time after that until the report is released.

Basically, these sources said, the task force will recommend to President Nixon that he junk the present import quota system, which permits individual companies to bring in specific amounts of foreign oil each year.

In its place, they added, the task force will recommend a tariff system which would bring up the price of foreign oil delivered to the United States. In addition, more foreign oil would be approved for import. The two factors, the task force believes, would bring down the price of American oil. The plan would cover a three-year span, from July 1, 1970 to July 1, 1973.

Just how far down American oil prices should come is one of the final decisions yet to be made. It was learned that members of the task force have proposed $3.10, $3 and $2.50 a barrel.

The price now is about $3.25, and it is understood that the $3 price is favored by most task force members.

Foreign oil delivered to this country presently costs about $1.25 a barrel less than U.S. oil.

Red Takeover Foreseen In Asia If U.S. Falters

LONDON (AP) — Sir Robert Grainger Ker Thompson, the British guerrilla fighter President Nixon consulted on Vietnam war policy, is a domino man.

He subscribes heavily to the theory that if America lets South Vietnam fall to the Communists, the rest of South Asia will follow like a stack of dominoes.

"Anyone can produce arguments, which the ignorant will be happy to devour, against it," he said in a television interview Sunday. "But you go and ask the dominoes."

Everyone Agreed

"I visited Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman in Kuala Lumpur and (Prime Minister) Lee Kuan Yew in Singapore and they are both perfectly clear on this—that if the United States fails in Vietnam then Asia will go Communist. And that will spread . . ."

Thompson, a stocky 5-foot-10 and still dark-haired at 53, was putting at his desk at his home in Somerset when the telephone rang in October. It was the White House.

A few days later, the veteran of the successful anti-Communist campaign in Malaya was on his way to Vietnam to assess the war for Nixon.

Announces Cutback

On Monday, the President announced the withdrawal of another 50,000 troops from the war and made clear that Thompson had influenced his decision. Nixon said the Briton's report was "candid and impressive."

The son of a canon in the Church of England, Thompson had a traditional upper-class education at Marlborough public school and Cambridge, then went to Malaya in 1958 as a cadet in the colonial service.

He was in Hong Kong when the Japanese came in, escaped on foot through Burma and finished World War II as an officer in the Royal Air Force.

After the war, he returned to Malaya as an assistant commissioner of labor with special responsibility for problems involving the Chinese.

Sir Thompson's career was forged as the Communist threat in Malaya advanced. He was made staff officer to the director of operations in 1950, when the guerrilla insurgency was at its height.

In 1959 he became permanent secretary for defense of the Federation of Malaya. Two years later he was made head of the British advisory mission in South Vietnam and for his 3½ years of work there he was knighted.

Book Published

His first book, "Defeating Communist Insurgency", was published in 1966. This year his

"No Exit from Vietnam" came out and established his name in the United States. It attributed American embarrassment in Vietnam to obscurity of aim, failure of strategy and lack of control. He concluded that the President had two options: defeat or continuation of the war by "a new long-haul, low-cost strategy."

"The position at the moment," he said in the TV interview, "is, of course, that either side could still win, but from the South Vietnamese point of view, helped by the Americans, they are now in a better position to win than they've ever been before."

Talks Second Front?

He regards the Paris peace talks as a dangerous second front set up by the North Vietnamese.

"The moment you get into negotiations, you automatically erode the resolution of the other side, and this is what they are after by their negotiations. And if you look at what's happened in Paris, the United States and South Vietnamese have gone absolutely as far as they can in making concessions. Any further concession now would be a giveaway."

In another interview he said the balance of the war had changed—"they are weaker tactically and psychologically and we are now stronger."

Turning Point Noted

The 1968 Tet offensive "was the turning point," he continued. "From then on it has been a downhill trail for the Viet Cong. And the Chinese won't help them. They believe in a do-it-yourself policy."

However, this "cold war administrator," as he calls himself, cautioned that "it could take three to five years before Hanoi was compelled to give up her purpose and to negotiate a real settlement."

Snowmobiles Winner In State Airport Rift

HARRISON (AP) — Snowmobiles instead of airplanes will be zooming down the runway of Harrison Airport this winter.

All day Sunday a deputy sheriff was busy trying to keep bundled and rosey-cheeked snowmobilers out of the airport. They were reportedly attracted by the hundreds to the level, snow-covered airfield.

Then Monday, the Clare County board of supervisors, considering how few airplanes use the field and how many snowmobile enthusiasts live in the county, banned planes from the field and turned it over to the bullet-shaped, motorized sleds until April 1.

Double Amputee War Vet Becomes U.S. Citizen

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP) — A young Italian who lost both legs serving in the U.S. Army in Vietnam stood proudly on his new artificial legs for the first time Tuesday and became a naturalized American citizen.

Chester County Judge John M. Kurtz Jr. brought his court to Valley Forge General Hospital for the ceremony.

Perspiration ran freely down the face of the soldier, 23-year-old Alfio Leone, and the judge interrupted the proceedings to offer him a chair.

"I will stand," replied Leone, whose family lives in Eggertsville, N.Y.

Leone smiled broadly as some 70 fellow patients and hospital staff members broke into applause after the ceremony.

"It's like a good Christmas present," he said. Leone, who was born in Dellecamere, Italy, had filed for citizenship three times since enlisting in the Army May 13, 1968.

Half a dozen local pilots and several downstate businessmen keep their planes at this county-owned airport in central Michigan, previously in the category of a farmer's field where a pilot landed at his own risk but licensed as a year-round facility last summer by the Federal Aeronautics Administration.

There was a plane crash Nov. 28 in which the pilot, Douglas Danberry of Harrison, said he overshot the runway trying to avoid a snowmobile while coming in for a landing. He was injured.

Since then, Danberry says, snowmobile owners and dealers telephone him and complain that he is trying to ruin their business.

There are about 25 snowmobile dealers in the Harrison area, which advertises to tourists, "This is the North," and which has had a solid three-inch base of snow for weeks.

Supervisors directed the county clerk to notify the FAA that snowmobiles are in and airplanes are out at Harrison.

Stupak Advised To Ignore Move For Resignation

Frank Stupak, of Gladstone, chairman of the Delta County Board of Supervisors who was asked to resign because of an alleged "incompatibility" of that position with his job as superintendent of the Big Bay de Noc School district, has been advised by Attorney Nicholas Chapekis of Escanaba to ignore the request.

H. H. Dubbelde of Escanaba, chairman of the Delta County Republican Party, asked for Stupak's resignation from the county board on the basis of an opinion from Michigan Attorney Gen. Frank Kelley.

Kelley said "that the office of superintendent of schools of a local school district and the office of a member of the county board of supervisors in the county in which such school district is located are incompatible and cannot be simultaneously occupied by the same person."

Reply Released
Kelley gave the opinion in response to a question on the situation from State Sen. Thomas Schweigert (R-Petoskey).

Chapekis had indicated Tuesday when contacted by the Daily Press that he disagreed with Kelley's views. Text of a letter from Chapekis to Dubbelde was released today.

"Frank Stupak has retained me with regard to your letter to him of Dec. 5," Chapekis wrote. "This is concerning possible incompatibility of his position as a County Supervisor and as Superintendent of a fourth class school district."

"The authorities cited in the Attorney General's informal opinion to Senator Thomas F. Schweigert have been examined. The opinion rests upon the premise that the same individual cannot represent the interests of the county and the school district before the Statutory County Allocation Board in tax allocation."

No Duty
"Nowhere in the enumeration of the duties of a superintendent of schools is there a duty to represent the school before the tax allocation board. He is not a member of the School Board, which would create incompatibility. He is, in fact, an employee of the school district, under contract, as are the teachers of the district."

"It appears to me that the reasoning used in the opinion to stretch the duties to include appearance before the Tax Allocation Board is not logical. The legislature could include this duty by legislative means, but has chosen not to do so to this date. I, therefore, disagree with the opinion given to Senator Schweigert."

Elected In 1968
"Your request for Mr. Stupak to resign is clearly out of order, even if the opinion of the Attorney General is correct (which I dispute). An examination of the Supreme Court case of Weza vs. Auditor General 297 Michigan 686, quoted in several of the opinions cited in the opinion to Senator Schweigert will reveal that the last position held by Mr. Stupak (that of county supervisor) is the one he legally holds. I must, therefore, respectfully advise Mr. Frank Stupak to ignore your request that he resign as a member of the County Board of Supervisors."

Stupak, who was elected one of five supervisors from Delta County in the November, 1968, election, was appointed superintendent in the Big Bay de Noc district in July, 1968. Prior to his appointment as superintendent he was employed in the district as principal and a teacher.

Dubbelde, in releasing to the news media the texts of the attorney general's opinion and the letter to Stupak, said that if Stupak failed to resign as requested he would take the question up with Assistant State Attorney General Donald K. Goulais of Escanaba.

Rotary Is Force For World Peace

Among its many services, Rotary International is a prime force for world peace, says Esau Cohodes of Iron Mountain, the governor of Rotary District 622.

Cohodes made his official visit to the Rotary Club of Escanaba on Tuesday, meeting with club officers and committee heads on Monday night and addressing the club membership at the House of Ludington Tuesday noon.

Thomas Straebel, club president, conducted the meeting and introduced the district governor, who described the service obligations of Rotary and its leadership in projects at the club, community and world level. Cohodes heads a Rotary district with 33 clubs in northern Wisconsin and Upper Michigan.

Rotary is increasingly an international organization, with 60 per cent of its members living outside the United States, Cohodes pointed out.

Rotary is growing rapidly in many countries of the world and its objectives have grasped the imagination of the people in many lands, "who take Rotary even more seriously than we do," Cohodes said.

"This international interest in Rotary and its objectives of service and good will indicate a deep interest in Rotary as a force for world peace," said the Rotary district governor.

He described the several methods Rotary uses to further international understanding, including Rotary Foundation which supports the studies of young people in other lands. The Rotary Foundation student this year is an Escanaba young woman, Miss Michelle Marcouiller, who is studying in Belgium.

There are "500 ambassadors of understanding" sponsored in a single year through the Rotary Foundation, he added. This exchange of education and information is viewed by Rotarians in many lands as a project that is furthering world peace.

410th Officers To Leave Base

K. I. SAWYER AFB—A second key staff member of the 410th Bomb Wing has received a permanent change of station assignment.

Col. Merle J. Lee, deputy commander for maintenance, will depart about Jan. 15 to become Deputy Commander for Operations, 4220th Air Refueling Squadron, stationed at Taiwan.

Another 410th Bomb Wing key staff member, Col. Roy A. Lancaster, recently left K. I. Sawyer AFB for Carswell AFB, Tex., to become vice commander of the 7th Bomb Wing.

At K. I. Sawyer six months, Col. Lee recently was named the boss of all aircraft and components maintenance activities at Sawyer. Previously he was deputy commander of the base and the 410th Combat Support Group. It was in that job that he was promoted to colonel.

Col. Lancaster, a veteran of more than 20 years in the Air Force, was Deputy Commander for Operations during his year at K. I. Sawyer.

County Board Names Commission Members

Three new lay members were elected to the Delta County Planning Commission by the Delta County Board of Supervisors during their meeting Tuesday night at the Delta County Building.

In a brief session, Thomas Eleger, of Gladstone, Emil Grolean, of Ensign, and Herb Westlund, of Rock, were elected newcomers to the commission. Members of the commission reelected are James Dotsch, of Garden, Mike LaPine, of Gladstone, and Dr. William Hemes, of Ford River.

The County Planning Commission is made up of eleven members. Six are lay members elected by the Board of Supervisors. The other five members are the five elected county supervisors.

They meet and study all matters concerning Delta County and recommend to the Board of Supervisors any action that should be taken.

In other action, the Board supported a resolution adopted by the Allegan County Board that opposed Gov. William Milliken's educational reform bills.

Beatle Lennon Wants Nixon To Pay Poster Costs

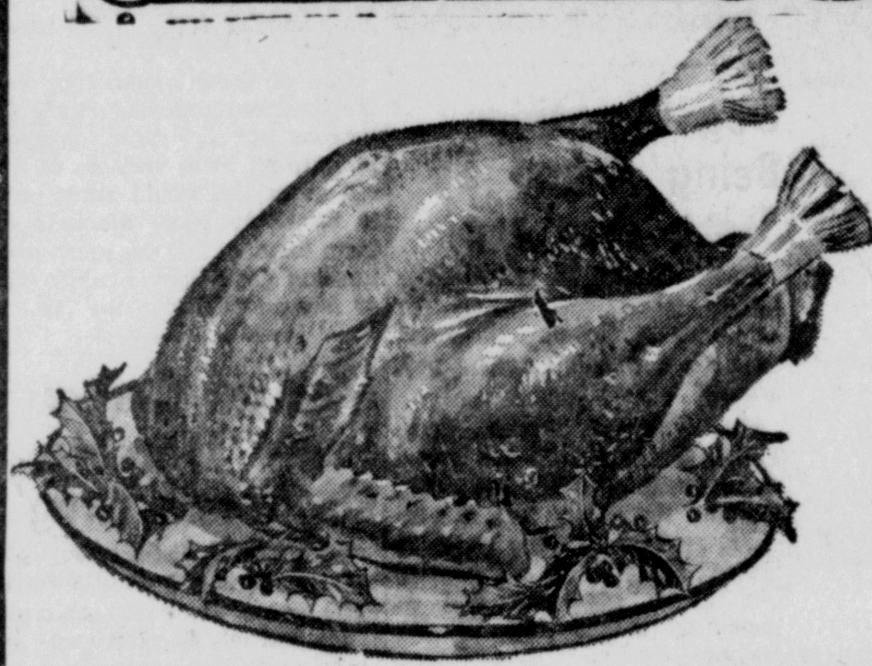

TORONTO (AP) — Beatle Joan Lennon says he is going to send the $72,000 bill for a forthcoming Christmas poster peace campaign to President Nixon.

Thousands of the posters—bearing the message "War is over, if you want it"—are due to go on display in 11 of the world's major cities during the next week.

"They cost less than the life of one man and I am sending the bill for printing to President Richard Nixon," Lennon said as he arrived at International Airport with his wife, Yoko Ono.

Board Tables Guard Program

In a brief session at the Administration Building Tuesday night, the Escanaba Area School Board tabled a motion that would have instituted an adult crossing guard program.

The program motion urged the Escanaba School Board to employ crossing guards to help direct children at three Escanaba intersections—2nd Ave. N. and Stephenson, 12th Ave. N. and Lincoln Rd., and 8th Ave. S. and Lincoln Rd.

The Safety Advisory Committee has tentatively approved the program outlined in the motion for crossing guards.

The Board gave Steve Story, community school director, approval to go ahead with his plans to participate in the annual Community School Winter Olympics Program to be held in Menominee in February.

In other business, the Board approved the adoption and implementation of the Adult High School Completion Policy as presented by the school administration. The policy is designed to maintain high standards for the awarding of credit and a diploma to adult education students, but at the same time it tries to recognize their special situations, school officials said.

Supt. Luther Barrett closed the meeting by informing the Board about the high degree of interest shown by parents during the recent parent-teacher conferences held in the area schools. Many of our classrooms had 100 per cent participation, Barrett said.

Catholic School Workshop Set

WEST DE PERE, Wis.—How the Catholic church can use its existing resources for the education of all of its people will be discussed by a prominent church official at the Catholic Boards of Education Workshop at St. Norbert College Saturday, Jan. 10.

Speaker will be Msgr. Raymond A. Luckner, director of the department of education of the U. S. Catholic Conference in Washington, D. C.

Msgr. Luckner will base much of his talk in what he calls "a whole new policy emerging in this country in regard to Catholic education." In a telephone interview from Washington, D. C., Msgr. Luckner said that the new policy was "to look on Catholic education in a much broader context than we considered it before."

Invited to the workshop are members of parish school boards from the diocese of Green Bay and the diocese of Marquette. The daylong program is sponsored by both dioceses and by the education department at St. Norbert College.

Also on the program is Bishop Aloysius J. Wycislo, bishop of Green Bay, who will speak on "Sharing Responsibility in the Diocese." Other programs during the day will include group discussions on school board problems from teacher recruitment, goals in education, accounting, policy and orientation.

For further information on the workshop, interested school board members are asked to write to: Dr. Raymond P. Clouthier, Director, Catholic Boards of Education Workshop, Education Department, St. Norbert College, West De Pere, Wis., 54178.

A Challenge

District Judge Dean Shipman, who was a practicing attorney before he was elected the first man to sit on the District Court bench in Delta County under the state reorganization law, challenged the community the other night in speaking to the Escanaba Lions Club.

Shipman's court is the first line in the criminal proceeding. He sees the juvenile offender and the adults before they "advance" to the Circuit Court level. He sees what happens to some of them.

And he says there is a problem in this area. Shipman brought to the Lions Club a movie from the U. S. Dept. of Corrections which focused on a young man caught "in the act" of burglary. The movie, entitled "The Odds Against," took the man from the moment of arrest, through questioning by police, jail detention, court arraignment, more jail detention before trial, jury proceedings and sentencing.

"It was at this point that the public lost interest in him," the narrator said, Shipman agreed.

The film continued with the young man, age 22 when first arrested, to the state prison. It showed his regimented and limited existence in deplorable surroundings, denial of parole and finally his release to society unprepared after over three years behind bars to cope with the demands of daily living. It told how the young man, over 25 years old now, was rearrested and sent to prison for a longer term this time and of how a life was wasted.

It wasn't very pretty.

But it's exactly what is happening in Delta County, Shipman said.

"I know of young men in Delta County who are carbon copies of the man in the film," the judge said.

On the street, there is often criticism of the court system for its apparent leniency toward persons convicted of crimes against society, of the number of probationary or suspended sentences imposed by the courts at all levels.

But the film, and Judge Shipman, made a strong case for probation in pointing out that the nation's prisons are so ill-equipped to treat the basic causes of anti-social criminal behavior that rarely are persons changed. Instead, persons who might have become productive members of society often change for the worse.

Of some 119 prisons in use in the United States, the film said, 24 are over 100 years old and only 23 were built in the past quarter century. Occupational programs provide manual labor, but little training for positions on the "outside." Even meal-time is by the clock.

Like Pavlov's dogs, Shipman commented, when the bell rings it's time to eat. After a while, the dog is so well trained that when the bell rings it begins to salivate. It's the same way in prison, Shipman said.

But while the life of a convict may be deplorable, there are no "pat" answers.

Part of the solution, the judge indicated, is in education, in providing our young people with the training and instruction in occupations and activities where they have an interest before trouble starts. Further progress also may be made at the court level.

"Look at that film," he told the Lions. "The only two persons under the age of 45 you saw were the defendant and his attorney."

Shipman said that at age 38 he has difficulties in communicating with young offenders. "Ask the school teachers," he charged. "They'll tell you."

The judge didn't dwell on the probation program he has started in his court using volunteer workers, but it was obvious he believes it could provide lasting benefits to the community. Basically, it involves assigning a youthful offender to a volunteer worker who has some knowledge in a field or trade in which the offender has expressed an interest. The hope is that his behavior will be channeled into some productive capacity, heading off a deeper criminal escapade.

Shipman will be the first to admit that such a probationary program isn't the total answer. But it seems like it's a much-needed step in the right direction. And, as such, it should have the support of the community. The line forms in the Delta County Building.

Red Trade

It is inconceivable that in the midst of a war, when all military, economic, and diplomatic means should be harnessed toward a single goal, the Congress of the United States is on the verge of relaxing restrictions on trade with Communist countries.

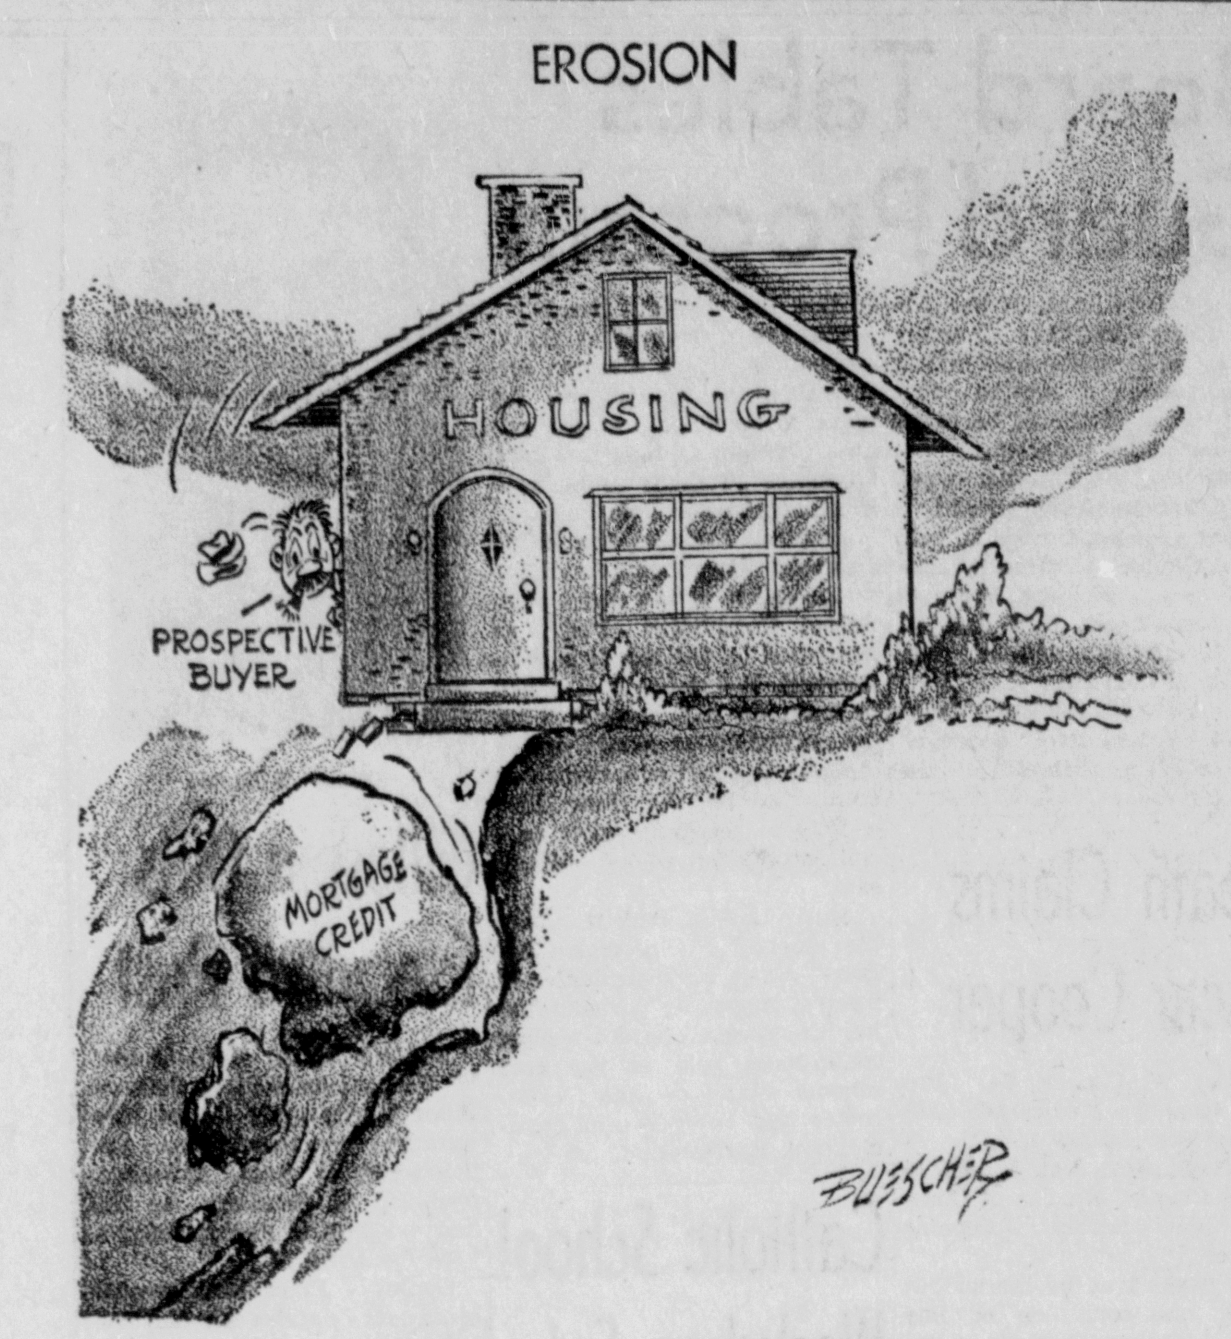

The legislation, sponsored by Sens. Edward Muskie, D-Maine, and Walter Mondale, D-Minn., and now close to final passage, paves the way for a massive expansion of commerce with the Red states of Eastern Europe.

Under its terms, controls on the sale of strategic products to these nations would be eliminated if the items in question are available to the Communists from non-American sources.

In other words, there's money to be made, and why shouldn't Americans make it?

Someone should tell the two senators that there's a war going on, and the enemy is not only North Vietnam but also the Soviet Union, which supplies Hanoi with an estimated $1 billion a year in military aid — without which its war effort would probably collapse.

Hope is still held in some quarters that the Soviet Union may be able to convince the North Vietnamese to enter into serious negotiations. But what chance is there of that if the Kremlin's present attitude is rewarded with expanded commerce?

U.S. Could Afford Isolationist Policy

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

At times, when the Swedes and the British are raking the U. S. over the coals for its alleged warmongering, one is tempted to say, "Okay, boys, if we're that bad, and you don't want us to help Asia and Europe keep the Muscovite wolf at bay, there's nothing to stop us from falling back on a policy of Western Hemisphere defense."

The point is that we could do it. We need the support of the outer world far less than the Swedes and the British need it.

The oil discoveries on the Alaskan North Slope, to pick a recent headline example, promise to make the North American continent completely self-sufficient so far as fossil fuels are concerned.

Anthony Harrigan, an associate of the Georgetown University Center of Strategic and International Studies, thinks the recent 71-day voyage of the giant icebreaker — tanker SS Manhattan through the ice floes of the Northwest Passage from Halifax to Alaska and back again over the roof of the world is an epoch-making bit of pioneering. But, according to Roger Lewis of the General Dynamics Corporation, the Arctic tankers of the future may not have to rely on costly icebreaking.

Lewis envisages the building of a submarine tanker fleet which will be able to make the round trip from Atlantic Coast ports to Prudhoe Bay in Alaska and back again under the ice floes without ever coming to the surface.

Once you go deep under the surface of the water you enter a world that is without commotion. No hurricanes blow below the waves. Assuming you have adequate fuel (as is the case with the atomic submarine) and plenty of oxygen, you can stay down in an unbreached element without worry. Nuclear submarines have gone under the polar ice cap and emerged with little difficulty.

Presumably, Harrigan, in making the case for "a fleet of 30 or more icebreaking super-tankers" capable of crunching their way through ice that "is sometimes 50-feet thick," is talking of the 1970s. Lewis's projected giant submarine tankers could be something for the 1980s.

But whether the Alaskan oil is moved over the waters or under the waters, or whether it is moved by pipeline across the tundra to the markets of the south, our access to the oil reserves of Saudi Arabia and Libya (or even, for that matter, Latin America) will cease to be a critical matter.

It would, of course, be extremely short-sighted of us to consign the whole outer world to the Communists. We can't be that cold-blooded about those who have been our Allies. But if we were compelled to accept isolationism, it would hurt us far less than it would hurt the Swedes, the British, the French and all the others who are so lavish with their nit-picking about U. S. "imperialism" in southeast Asia.

In all decency the nit-pickers should reflect on what might happen to them if we were actually to take their gratuitous advice and stop trying to contain the Communists.

To protect a deepwater tanker fleet operating through Northwest Passage waters, Harrigan thinks we must reconsider our defense posture.

The Soviet Union, which has developed its own specially constructed ships and icebreakers to serve as an Arctic Ocean alternative to the Trans-Siberian Railway, has pioneered in naval protection of north waters. The Russians, says Harrigan, "can be expected to direct their nuclear submarines north and under the ice."

The Soviet Union, according to our CIA, has 425 submarines, 35 of which are nuclear. The U. S., so Harrigan thinks, may very well have to deploy a strong undersea flotilla of its own in the Far North and it will have to create a new northern naval command "geared to the operational problems of the region."

But if Lewis is right about the long future, and the day of the submarine tanker is coming, we will some day have an underwater tanker fleet which cannot be tracked by radar or by sight. This would take some of the expense out of the job of protecting the hemispheric movement of oil in northern waters.

The movement of populations into the Far North, which will come as the oil economy of Alaska develops, will inevitably spark a search for iron and copper, zinc and tungsten, and even new sources of gold. For if the docks and the shipping and the naval protection are there for oil, it will become an economic proposition to transport any type of wealth that may be found in the Far North.

It has already been sufficiently proved that people can live in the Arctic; the Soviet Far North, as Harrigan points out, now supports 10 times the population of the U. S. and Canadian northern areas.

Since we do not need Asia, Africa or even Latin America for expansion, an isolationist policy is feasible for the U. S. if we are pushed and chivied into it. Stockholm, London and Paris papers please copy.

Europeans grew the potato experimentally as early as the 16th century, but remained highly suspicious of it.

Opening lead—king of spades. In notrump play, declarer frequently refuses to win the opening lead even though he has the ace. This refusal to win, known as a hold-up play, generally occurs when declarer is being attacked in a suit where he is relatively weak. He withholds the ace in order to interfere with enemy communications.

The hold-up during suit play occurs much less frequently, but it can nevertheless be just as effective as the hold-up in notrump play.

Here is a case in point. South gets to five clubs and West leads the king of spades. If South wins it with the ace, he goes down. Whenever he returns a spade, West takes the jack and shifts to a low heart. East's king forces the ace and declarer must eventually lose three tricks—two spades and a heart.

But if South refuses the king of spades, he makes the contract regardless of what West plays next!

Suppose West continues with a spade. South takes the ace, draws trumps, and returns a spade. Dummy's spades thus become established and they easily take care of South's heart loser.

Or let's suppose West shifts to a low heart at trick two. Declarer wins East's king with the ace, draws trumps, and returns a heart. This establishes a heart trick in dummy and South avoids a spade loser by discarding the nine of spades on the jack of hearts.

There is no risk attached to ducking the king of spades. Even if West has four spades, South cannot lose more than two tricks. If West continues with a spade, it makes no difference whether or not East ruffs; either way, South cannot be stopped from establishing dummy's fifth spade as a trick.

Letters To The Press

LIONS DID IT

Your sports department is to be highly complimented on the fair and honest reporting of a situation which is difficult for many local sports enthusiasts to believe. Namely: the fact that the Detroit Lions could and did shut out the Los Angeles Rams at full-strength!

It is hard for them to believe it after local TV announcers reported repeatedly that the Rams quarterback played only two series of downs and many second — stringers were used throughout the game. Well, Ray Scott and Paul Christman, you said what they wanted to hear.

Imagine the shock of those of us who watched (on Ch. 9, Traverse City) the Fearsome Foursome, intact, penetrated repeatedly by Lions second-string backfield, then switching to Ch. 6 in time to hear that the Rams were "underpowered." Correction TV sportscasters—the word is overpowered!

Believe this, those of you who watched Ch. 6, Roman Gabriel played the entire second half and part of the first—long enough to get decked two or three times and intercepted twice (only the fifth and sixth times this year). Believe this, and the record book will bear it out, George Allen is not fool enough to send the best quarterback in the league against one of the best pass rushes in the league with his second string line in between. Allen thought he could rest some of his players, notably Lamar Lundy, the injured defensive end, and Myron Pottios, who had been in a car accident, and still win. Both played extensively.

It must be remembered that the Lions played most of the season with their bench (as high as nine regulars out in one game). If you don't have a bench, you don't have a team in the N. F. L. today.

Whether you believe that the Rams had a mental meltdown after their loss to the Vikings or that George Allen had a mental breakdown you must believe that the Lions defeated the Rams 28-0, a feat which even the Green and Yellow boys from Wisconsin didn't do.

Terry DeLoughery, Harris

EXPERTS?

We have been told that we must believe the experts and rely on their expert opinions (in our case the Chief of Fisheries and his staff) and decisions.

How can we when in 1966 the Chief of Fisheries and his staff told us that there were too many perch and the size and season were taken off and then in 1969 the Chief of Fisheries says that there are not enough perch and they must be taken off of the commercial list. The no size, season or limit applied to sportsmen as well as commercial fishing during the three years.

The "professional fisherman" or the commercial fisherman who is on the lakes day after day, and year after year opposed both the taking off of the no size and season.

First he recommended the sized be reduced from 8 1/2 inches to 8 inches for two years rather than the no size and no season. He still wanted to protect the perch for reproduction, but both the sportsmen and the commercial fisherman opposed these changes on the basis that the Chief of Fisheries lacked the facts to back his theory for this change.

Again we were told that they were the experts—and that we must trust their judgment!!

Without seeing the picture as a whole and mostly sitting behind a desk reading articles and without any actual "on the job experience" such as the "pros" have, these expert opinions are forced upon us and we must sit by and watch unwise fishery programs put into effect. Who would you believe?

I have fished — perch commercially for 15 years by myself and for 15 years with my father, who fished for 20 years before me. This being done in Little Bay de Noc and the amount of perch I caught did not hurt the population but it helped me make a livelihood because of a physical handicap. I am now forced on welfare because of the regulations by the Department of Natural Resources Fish Division, not allowing any commercial fishing in Little Bay de Noc.

LANSING (AP) — Rep. Edward Suski, D-Flint, has urged Gov. William Milliken to appoint Flint District Judge Ollie Bivins to a vacancy on the Genesee County Circuit Court bench. 'Potheads' Should Get Facts Straight

Dear Ann Landers: May I say a word to the potheads who keep saying marijuana is better for you than alcohol? (It's the same as saying typhoid is better for you than small pox.) I just read something so funny it blew my mind.

The feds caught up with a college kid who plunked down 30 grand for a half ton of pot. It's hard to believe a college student could lay his hands on that much scratch. But he did. The dumb cluck planned to fly it from Mexico to San Francisco.

How many kids could get zonked on a half ton of grass? How much profit is there in that much alfalfa? Who gets rich? Who gets stuck? The kid who was caught pushing the stuff was no user. When asked how many joints he smoked a day he replied, "It's to sell, Stupid."

The pushers I know (and I knew several) tell me it's strictly business with them. They're too smart to use it themselves. Just sign me — One Trip Warren

Dear One: Thanks for the traveltogue. I read you loud and clear.

Dear Ann Landers: When a couple expects a baby six or seven months after a large church wedding, how should the bride's parents break the news to relatives and friends?

We are aware of that old cliché, "It happens in the best of families," but all the same, it's not easy to be nonchalant when the problem hits home. It hit us a few weeks ago.

Should we keep quiet and hope the baby is small and say it was premature? Should we fib a little and say the couple was married secretly three months earlier? Or should we tell the truth and say the bride was pregnant when she married? — S. F. Worry

Dear S. F.: Why must you say anything? Your real friends, will offer congratulations and ask no questions. The finger-counters, local yentas, and needle-nosed gossips will talk, regardless. Ignore the clouds with their small minds and their big mouths. You owe them nothing.

Vandalism In Area Schools Running High

Vandalism in the area schools cost the taxpayers more than $1,500 in 1968, according to a report by area schools maintenance director, Joe Wood. Unnecessary repairs to all seven area schools—Central, Lincoln, Lakeside, Hiawatha, Fairview, Doyle and Germfask—are included in the report.

This year, the cost is slightly lower with $750 expended through November, 1969.

Reports on the vandalism were compiled through cost and labor estimates made for unnecessary repairs. Included are repairs to broken windows and doors, seats, light fixtures and switches, lockers, shower knobs; plugged toilets and drains, and paint removal.

Although vandals are seldom caught, efforts are made to secure restitution when they are apprehended, according to school officials.

O'Konski Backs Sanguine Plan In Wisconsin

PARK FALLS, Wis. (AP)—Rep. Alvin O'Konski, R - Wis., Tuesday accused "irresponsible persons" of making statements against the Navy's proposed Project Sanguine in northern Wisconsin without knowing all the facts.

A letter from the congressman in whose district the project is planned was read at a hearing of the Wisconsin Assembly by State Affairs Committee, which took testimony on the controversial communications project.

O'Konski, who lives at Mercer, Wis., said that "as a man who has built three radio stations and two television stations, I would not back any project that I felt would be detrimental to the communication of the area."

O'Konski said a statement issued last month by Lester Voigt, secretary of the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources, pointing out possible hazards of the 26-county underground transmitter grid was "irresponsible."

Voigt said there could be danger to wildlife and possibly even human life.

The congressman said Voigt's comments were well publicized while those of a department engineer a few days later were "almost ignored."

The engineer, following a meeting in Washington with Navy experts, said the possible hazards apparently had been exaggerated.

Carl Mess of the Price County telephone Co., told the committee that Louis Hanson of Mellen, former Wisconsin Democratic Party chairman, should apologize for a statement Mess claimed Hanson made on a nationally televised program on Nov. 6. He quoted Hanson as saying a "certain trout stream" destroyed by Project Sanguine engineers. But he claimed that Hanson later admitted that stream had never been listed by the Conservation Division as a trout stream.

Earlier Tuesday, Capt. Ferdinand Brand, director of the Sanguine project, said the Navy had "eliminated all of the hazards to our satisfaction."

"There is no technical problem for which we cannot find a technical solution," he said.

Brand insisted that with proper control devices, the installation would not interfere with local equipment such as telephones, television and radio.

Milliken Shakes Hands Of 1,007 At Open House

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William Milliken shook hands 1,007 times Tuesday.

An aide kept track with a hand counter at the governor's open house for state employees in the executive office Tuesday afternoon.

Several groups touring the Capitol, including the Grand Rapids Creston High School choir, swelled the numbers. The choir was invited in to sing while the governor rested his sore hand for a few moments.

Oddly enough, No. 1,000 in line was Rep. Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, House minority leader.

Informality was the key to the occasion.

A painter who has been working in the executive office slapped the governor on the back and greeted him with "Hi buddy."

But State Police kept an eye on the visitors at both the entrance and exit.

An added attraction were chips from the moon, presented to Milliken by President Nixon, on display in the office. With them was the miniature state flag carried to the moon by Apollo 11.

State Ranked 7th

LANSING (AP)—Michigan is seventh among the states in the nation in total miles of highways, roads and streets, reports the State Highway Department. Michigan has a total of 114,170 miles. Tops in the nation is Texas with 240,130 miles followed by California with 158,159 miles.

Several Firms Making Progress With Pollution

LANSING (AP)—The State Air Pollution Control Commission said Tuesday it has received reports from several firms throughout the state that they expect to meet deadlines for controlling pollutants.

The commission Tuesday also said it was going to study the matter before making a decision in the case of the Great Markwestern Packing Co. of Detroit.

The company is charged with moving cattle to a feed lot near Quincy, in Hillsdale County, before air pollution control equipment was approved.

Ideal Casting Co. of Albion was given a three-month extension until Jan. 1, 1972 to install equipment to control dust that has been causing pollution.

Paramount Potato Chip Co. of Flint, which previously had a Dec. 15 deadline, was given an extra 30 days to control pollution by water vapors and gasses.

Grand Rapids Gypsum Co. said engineering studies were progressing and it expected to meet a target date of July 1, 1971 to control pollutants.

Brown Paper Co. of Kalamazoo, which has three plants, said it was making good progress in converting the plants to gas to cut down its pollution problem.

Refugee, 72, Gets Masters Degree

DETROIT (AP)—At 72, Russian Revolution refugee Morris Loren believes "everyone should work until they die. Not for money, but to improve the community."

Loren proved his point this week when he was awarded a master's degree in business administration from Wayne State University in Detroit.

The five-foot Ukrainian who now lives in the Detroit suburb of Royal Oak has already started working on his doctorate in education and next month begins teaching college-level accounting.

Loren received his bachelor's degree in 1930 and returned to his laundry business for 36 years.

After the Russian Revolution of 1917, Loren said he became president of the village's revolutionary council but argued with the commanders of the occupying Red Army so often that he was arrested. He said he was finally warned by a secret police official that if he valued his life, he would get out of town.

Loren fled to Romania. Later he and his family went to Bucharest and in 1925 an aunt in Detroit sent them $300. They spent $250 of it for their ship's passage to America.

In Detroit he took a job as a sweeper, became a partner in a new laundry and studied English at night school.

He stayed in the laundry business until 1966, supporting two sons and three daughters—triplets. One of his daughters, Mrs. Rosalyn Barclay, graduated from Wayne State University with him this week.

The greatest distance at which an object on the surface of the sea, or of a level plain, can be seen by a person whose eyes are at a height of five feet from the same level is nearly three miles.

Louisiana 'Schools' Not Too Comfortable

VILLE PLATTE, La. (AP) — Desks sit idle in the public schools while hundreds of white elementary pupils carry their books daily to a nightclub, a grocery store and other makeshift school sites. High school students attend classes in a converted cattle auction barn.

It's part of the protest in Evangeline Parish—French-speaking Cajun country—against federal court school desegregation orders.

"The impetus of a common enemy—federal intervention—is our greatest asset," said the Rev. Melvin Plaque, president of the Evangeline Academy, a new private school system.

The academy has collected some other assets during its short life—$400,000 in donations, memberships and tuition and a student body of some 2,400.

Its backers say a new $100,000 elementary school for the academy will open by the first of the year. Then the temporary facilities—some of which double for other use at night and on weekends—will be vacated by the youngsters.

The public schools have lost some 3,000 pupils this fall to the academy and parochial schools, leaving an enrollment estimated at 2,483 whites and 3,211 Negroes.

Nat Manuel, parish school superintendent, said the public school system has not felt any financial effects. The State Department of Education is scheduled to revise its allocations—based on a variety of factors, but basically enrollment—early next year, however.

Manuel said the private schools are no threat to the public school system.

"There will always be students who can't afford private schools," Manuel said.

"This is not segregation at all," Plaque said. "I'm not a racist, but nobody will believe that."

Asked whether there were any Negroes in the academy, Plaque replied: "We have no blacks. There may be some Negroes, but I don't know. We don't give blood tests."

"No blacks have applied," he said. "If they do, I don't know what the board would do. It's their decision."

Three forces will demand home construction increases in the next five years — the release of 3 1/2 million servicemen after Vietnam; pressures from Negroes for upgraded housing; the shift from apartments to single family housing by World War II war babies.

Santa and the DUMBBELL

By Lucrece Beale

Synopsis: Booby Bobby uses a candy recipe from the Witch's Handbook to catch the Troll. By mistake the Ghost and the Princess and Santa eat the candy and change into a banana, a pomegranate and an apple.

CHAPTER 14 CLOUD CASTLE

Booby Bobby put the yellow banana and the golden pomegranate and the big red apple in a bowl. "What shall we do?" he moaned.

"The first thing to do is destroy that candy," said Tweedleknecs. "Witch's recipes would never work on the Troll anyway for he is a witch himself." He threw the candy, pots and pan into the fire.

Booby Bobby pleaded: "There must be some way to turn Santa and the Ghost and the Princess back into themselves. Isn't there anyone who knows magic and can help?"

"There is a Prince who knows about such things," murmured Tweedleknecs. "I will go to him!" cried Booby Bobby.

"Impossible," said Tweedleknecs. "He lives in a castle no one has ever seen. It is said that it is somewhere in the sky but that is all make-believe, of course."

"I have often seen castles in the sky!" explained Booby Bobby.

"You are daft," said Tweedleknecs. "They are only clouds you saw." He took a very large handkerchief from his pocket. "It's no use. Santa has gone. Christmas is over forever." He rushed out honking his nose and wiping his eyes.

Booby Bobby went out and gazed at the cloudless sky. He sat down and waited. He waited all day and all night. He never took his eyes off the sky. Early the second morning he saw the castle — a great white palace flecked with pink and gold — floating overhead.

He started to shout for Riding the pig, he came nearer the castle.

Tweedleknecs but he thought, "No. He will say it is only clouds. I'll get one of the reindeer and fly to the castle on my own."

He ran all the way to the barn before he remembered that the reindeer had been turned into pigs. He watched them scrambling in the mud.

"If only they could fly!" he thought wistfully. And then: "Well, who knows? Perhaps they can. No one has tried!" He climbed on the back of the littlest pig. He jingled the bells around its neck and cried, "Fly away to the castle in the sky!"

The pig grunted and snorted and took a few waddling steps. Suddenly it straightened its tail and rose out of the mud and soared towards the castle drifting overhead.

As they drew closer, the castle seemed to change shape and disappear. Booby Bobby was worried. Was it really only a cloud after all? He rode into a bank of clouds. For a long while he couldn't see anything at all. Then he was out on the other side and there was the castle — real and true — only hidden now and then by puffs of clouds floating by.

He left the pig at the gates of the castle and walked slowly up an avenue paved with rose leaves. He went up marble steps and into a blue-ceilinged hall.

There sat a crowned prince playing on a silver flute. It was a sound so sweet and pure that even the birds in the garden were still to listen.

The Prince greeted Booby Bobby with surprise. "Everyone thinks the castle is made of clouds. We have never had visitors before. Tell me how you happened to come."

Booby Bobby told him a that had happened in Santa Land and how it was said the Prince knew the way to break the Troll's spell on Santa and the Ghost and the Princess.

The Prince shook his head and said sadly, "You yourself cast the spell and only the Troll knows how to break it."

Era Of Supertanker Dimmed By Sinking

NEW YORK (AP) — The era of the supertanker has brought with it the threat of catastrophic oil spills.

This was pointed up when the 207,000-ton Marpessa owned by Shell Tankers Ltd. exploded and sank Monday 80 miles off the coast of West Africa after making its first oil delivery.

While the Marpessa had unloaded its cargo at Rotterdam and was empty, the sinking sent shivers through the oil industry, which is working to develop means of preventing and controlling oil spills.

"There would have been a hell of a lot of oil on the coast of Africa if the Marpessa had been loaded," said a delegate to an international conference on prevention and control of oil slicks which is under way here.

Pollution Dangers

The danger of pollution from oil spills has received increased attention since the 118,000-ton tanker Torrey Canyon broke up on rocks seven miles off the southwest tip of England in March 1967. It spilled 30 million gallons of oil onto 100 miles of beach. The owners paid Britain and France $7.2 million for pollution damage.

"We all recognize that present technology for handling large spills—especially in the open sea—is, to say the least, primitive," L.P. Haxby, manager for air and water conservation of Shell Development Co., told the conference.

"Perhaps the most effective technique used to date was to spread straw as an absorbent and pick it up with rakes and pitchforks as was done in Santa Barbara, Calif. In an age when we can reach the moon, we should be able to do better than this."

Prevention Problem

Haxby said oil and shipping companies have formed about 50 cooperatives to plan for handling oil spills, hoping to use such equipment as floating booms to contain the oil, chemical sprays and pumps.

Apart from the cleaning up after a major oil spill, there is the matter of prevention. Changes in ship design are under study.

Bigger Ships Needed

The number of supertankers has increased substantially since 1968. The need for vessels of their size to carry oil throughout the world increased after the Suez Canal was closed during the 1966 Israeli-Arab war.

The American Bureau of Shipping reports there are now 180 tankers with a carrying capacity of 100,000 tons or more in service, compared with about 55 before 1968.

Only one of these vessels carries the U.S. flag—Humble Oil & Refining Co.'s SS Manhattan, the first commercial vessel to negotiate the ice-packed Northwest Passage above Canada.

The Bureau of Shipping says 310 supertankers are on the drawing boards.

Many of them will have a capacity of more than 200,000 tons, and some more than 300,000 tons.

Nuns To Benefit From Generosity Of Aristotle

NEW YORK (AP) — Aristotle Onassis is giving two American nuns a Christmas present—an expenses-paid holiday trip to Bethlehem.

Sister Margaret O'Neill of Englewood, N.J., and Sister Alodia Carney of Dyersville, Iowa, said they had tried in vain for the past six years to earn their way on a Holy Land visit.

Finally they asked Onassis if he could help. They said an Onassis aide advised them the Greek shipping tycoon would foot the bill for the trip. The nuns left for Israel Tuesday on a plane of Olympic Airways, which Onassis owns.

1st Anniversary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Julie and David Eisenhower will make a first wedding anniversary trip to Europe starting Saturday, taking advantage of a low-cost student air fare to Brussels.

As students at Smith and Amherst respectively, they qualify for a $200 round trip fare. The regular tourist round trip rate is $464.

Peace Plan Failure Deplored By Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI today deplored the failing of world leaders to end the wars in Nigeria, Vietnam and the Middle East.

Reviewing the internal state of the Roman Catholic Church, the 72-year-old Pontiff also decried the increasing number of priestly defections and called this "our crown of thorns." He reasserted that celibacy is in the very nature of the priesthood.

The pope was making his annual speech replying to Christmas wishes from the cardinals at the Vatican. He spoke of "three most regrettable matters in the network of relationships between peoples"—the Nigerian conflict, Vietnam and the Middle East.

Concerning Vietnam, the Pope noted that many zones were "disturbed by war, by massacres and by repeated acts of terrorism that harm so many humble and industrious citizens."

Possibly he was referring to the alleged American massacre at My Lai.

He said he had addressed a message to the Vietnamese bishops to encourage Catholics to work for "concord and peace."

Turning to the Roman Catholic Church, the Pope said it "feels the buffeting of the storm characteristic of our time, which sometimes draws from our lips the imploring cry of the terrified disciples: 'Save us, Lord, we are perishing.'"

He noted two "phenomena which today's facile publicity and the curiosity of public opinion bring more into evidence

Baum Stresses Youth's Role In American Art

BY CLINT DUNATHAN

An Escanaba native, an artist and teacher, believes younger artists of the country should have their say — and a place to exhibit what they are saying.

He is Don Baum of Roosevelt University, Chicago, the son of Mrs. Abe Baum and the late Mr. Baum, Escanaba businessman.

Witness, for example, Don's most recent "Famous Artists" show in Museum of Contemporary Art in Chicago, an effort in which he was given a free hand by Curator Jan Van der Mark, and with a result that captured considerable public attention and some critical acclaim.

Alfred Frankenstein, writing in "This World," is so taken in by the show's format in which the young artists are described as "students" who have become "famous" after one of those much-advertised art courses, says:

"The people at the museum swear it's all for real, but I think Don Baum invented the artists and created every last thing in the show."

Younger Artists

Baum says otherwise, and attributes the success of the show to 28 young artists of the Chicago community.

"This particular event was much in line with the activities at the Hyde Park Art Center Gallery of which I have been director for 15 or more years," he reports.

"The art center is a non-profit enterprise which has made it possible to devote itself to the exposition of younger avant-garde artists. It has become the only place in Chicago where there is a consistent showing of younger Chicago artists and in recent years I have been frequently asked to escort American and European curators and art critics to the Center and to artists studios."

"Possibly the best-known group originating at the Art Center, 'The Hairy Who,' along with numerous others, have in the past year been represented in major shows at the Whitney Museum of American Art in New York City, the Dupont Center of the Corcoran Museum in Washington D.C., and the Institute of Contemporary Art in Philadelphia."

Heads Department

And he notes with some concern: "This is all rather sad, the opposite of the Chicago art public's attitude (including dealers, Art Institute of Chicago, and collectors) to Chicago artists."

Baum, a graduate of Escanaba High School, with degrees from Michigan State University, Chicago Art Institute, Chicago School of Design and the University of Chicago, has been in the art department at Roosevelt University since 1950 and chairman of the department for the past three years. He has served as consultant to the Illinois Arts Council for several years and organized for them four circulating exhibitions of paintings by Illinois artists.

"Naturally, I do continue to do my own work and to show it when possible. Over the years I have shown individual pieces at the Art Institute of Chicago and group shows elsewhere as well as having one-man shows occasionally in Chicago and New York," he reports.

Don's wife is also an artist and they have two children, a son Charles, 14, and a daughter, Maria, 8.

Three Injured In Auto Crash On Memory Lane

Three persons were hurt, none seriously, in a collision of two cars on U. S. 2-41 at Memory Lane west of Escanaba at 5:50 p. m. Tuesday, it is reported by city police.

Injured were Donna Mae Motto, 19, Wilson, who is ticketed for improper lane usage; and Mary D. Bartosik, 20, of Powers, driver of the other car, and a passenger, Anne Fleetwood, 13, also of Powers. A second passenger, Beth Broton, 10, Powers, escaped injury.

Officers said that Donna Motto's car crossed centerline of the highway, struck the Bartosik car and then hit a tree. The injured were taken to St. Francis Hospital for treatment and released.

Christmas Music By NMU Groups Set For WNMR

MARQUETTE — Northern Michigan University's Arts Chorale, under the directorship of Dr. James McKelvy, will be featured in a half-hour special tonight on WLUC-TV at 8:30 p. m.

The program will feature the choral group singing Christmas carols, plus color scenes from their trip last summer to Europe.

Northern Michigan University's Music Department will present a special Christmas program Thursday at 7:00 p. m. on the station. The program will feature the University Choir, directed by C. Arthur Dimond; the Arts Chorale under Dr. James McKelvy; and the Freshman Chorus, directed by Joseph Cook.

Wyeth To Return To MSU Faculty

EAST LANSING — Dr. Irving Wyeth, who spent his first 15 years on the Michigan State University staff in the Cooperative Extension Service, is returning to the College of Agriculture on a two-year special assignment as Director of the Institute of International Agriculture and Nutrition.

Wyeth, currently administrative assistant to the Dean of International Programs at MSU, will temporarily replace Dr. Kirkpatrick Lawton, who began heading a new MSU Indonesian Project on Dec. 15.

Wyeth started his extension work in Michigan in 1946 as 4-H Club agent in Lenawee County. He became agricultural agent and extension director in St. Clair County in 1953. From 1957 to 1961 he was assistant district extension director for the Upper Peninsula with headquarters at Marquette.

Wyeth has B. S., M. S., and Ph.D. degrees from Michigan State University.

THE AVANT-GARDE IN ART, emphasizing the work of younger artists of the Chicago community, is one of the goals of Don Baum in bringing recognition to young painters. He directed a show earlier this year at the Museum of Contemporary Art in Chicago featuring their work.

Downhill Trip Continues For Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Declining issues led advances by 180 issues in early trading today, as the stock market continued its downhill journey.

The Dow Jones industrial average at 10:30 a. m. stood at 773.03, down 80.

Tax-loss selling gripped Tuesday's market, sending the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials to 773.83, off 10.22, a new yearly low and the lowest level in more than three years.

The Associated Press 60-stock average lost 3.1 to 261.9, not only a new 1969 low but the lowest mark hit in 6 years.

Brodersen Admits Narcotics Charge

John Carl Brodersen, 19, of Norway, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of possession of marijuana when arraigned before Circuit Judge Bernard Davidson in Marquette on Tuesday, and had his sentencing tentatively set for Jan. 5 in Escanaba.

Prosecuting Attorney John Beauchamp said that Brodersen continues at liberty on bond for his appearance.

Brodersen was arrested by Escanaba police after an incident in Escanaba at 614 Ludington St., on Thursday, Oct. 30, when Brodersen crashed through a plate glass door while suffering from a "bad trip" on LSD.

Two other young men, Stanley W. Hohnaki, 20, and Edward Scull, 19, who were residing at 614 Ludington St., pleaded guilty to use of marijuana and were sentenced in Delta District Court to terms in the county jail, plus probation.

Joseph W. McDonald, 23, of Chicago, charged with breaking and entering Butch's Hardware in Gladstone on July 15, 1969, appeared in Judge Davidson's court at Marquette on Tuesday and asked for appointment of an attorney. The court complied and McDonald is to enter a plea to the charge at a later date.

Clyde Craw, Leona, Wis., charged with breaking and entering Pat & Jim's delicatessen, Gladstone, on Dec. 2, entered a plea of guilty in Circuit Court at Marquette on Tuesday. The loss of $71.50 was reported to officers. He is to be sentenced later.

Three others implicated as receiving stolen property in value less than $100 have been sentenced in Delta District Court to terms in the county jail. They are Jerry Camp, Waubesa, Wis., Gary Moore, Cambridge, Ind., and Steve Stamper, Viroqua, Wis.

They are serving 15 days in jail each and were assessed fines of $50, $20 court costs and a judgment fee of $3.

Prosecutor Beauchamp said there are additional warrants against the three in connection with breakings and enterings in Wisconsin.

David C. Pugliese

Social Security Names Assistant District Manager

David C. Pugliese entered on duty today as the new assistant district manager of the Escanaba Social Security office. His appointment was announced by Paul D. Snider, regional representative of Social Security's Bureau of District Office Operations.

"Pugliese brings a wealth of experience in Social Security office operations to his new position," said Snider. "He has previously served as claims representative in Ashtabula, field representative in Marietta, and operations supervisor in Cleveland, Ohio. He is a graduate of Hiram College, Hiram, Ohio. Big Bay, Broncos Record Victories In League Games

The Big Bay de Noc Black Bears showed that their big layoff due to the teacher strike didn't have any harmful effects, as they handed the Rapid River Rockets their first loss of the season Tuesday night by a 77-63 margin.

The victory left the Black Bears, now 2-0 on the season, in a two-way tie for first place in the Central League with Perkins and dropped the Rockets, now 4-1, into a tie for second place with the Bark River-Harris Broncos.

In the only other conference game played last night, the Broncos edged the Eben Eagles 54-52.

The game between Big Bay and Rapid River matched speed against speed and the Black Bears showed that they had a little more in coming up with the victory.

John Lewandowski led four Big Bay players in double figures with 30 points, all on field goals, while Herb Pomeroy chipped in with 17, Bill Hartman 15 and Dave Hardwick 11. Lewandowski also did a fine job on the boards for the Black Bears.

Dale Pasi paced the Rapid River attack with 15 points and he got help from Jeff Boyer, with 12 points and Dan Safford and Dale Morin with 10 points apiece.

Big Bay will now play host to Perkins on Friday night for a showdown battle and Rapid River will hit the road for a non-conference game against the Class C Norway Vikings.

Bark River got good bench support and some balanced scoring in their narrow victory over Eben. Russ Piriot, Gary Phillips and Al Richer came off the bench when three starters got in trouble and responded with 21 points between them to keep the Broncos in the game.

Eben had a one-point lead at the end of the first quarter and the Broncos went ahead by one at halftime. Eben tied the game up in the third quarter, but got cold in the final period and was outscored 8-6.

Alex Jorasz and Piriot led the Broncos in the scoring department with 11 points while Leo Niemi paced all scorers in the game with 22 points for Eben. Dale Ruska also chipped in with 10 points for the losers.

Bark River made 23 of 54 field goal attempts in the game and Eben was just 19 of 68 from the field. In the rebounding department, the Broncos held a slim 43-41 edge with Jorasz leading the way with 16 and Phillips helping out with nine.

In the preliminary game, Rapid River trounced Big Bay 60-29 and Eben scored a 55-44 victory over Bark River.

Blues Defeat Red Wings 6-4

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Veteran center Phil Goyette drew even with Bobby Orr of Boston in the National Hockey League individual scoring race with a goal and an assist in the St. Louis Blues' 6-4 victory over the Detroit Red Wings.

Goyette's goal, his 15th, came in the final minute of the first period and tied the score at 3-3. He assisted on Ab McDonald's 15th goal of the season earlier in the period to pull even with Orr with 41 points.

Pete Stelmowski and Nick Libett gave Detroit a quick 2-0 lead in the first period. Tim Ecclestone got the Blues into the scoring act, then Stelmowski struck again for his second goal of the night and his 11th of the year. The Red Wings were playing a man short at the time.

Barclay Plager racked up his third goal of the season and Gary Sabourin his ninth in the second period to break the 3-2 tie and give St. Louis the winning margin.

Libett scored again for Detroit in the third period but Jim Roberts canceled it out with a tally for the Blues.

St. Louis goalie Jacques Plante picked up the fifth assist of his NHL career when he cleared the puck to Sabourin in the second period. Sabourin streaked down the middle, split the defense and shot the puck past Detroit goalie Roger Crozier.

New Mexico State Notches Seventh Straight Victory

By The Associated Press

"It feels good to be playing for No. 1 again... when you know you have a chance," says Coach Lou Henson of New Mexico State.

The Aggies, beaten by Lew Alcindor and UCLA in the last two NCAA Western playoffs, are currently ranked No. 3. But they continued their drive toward the top spot Tuesday with a 91-73 rout of New Mexico, their seventh consecutive victory.

"If we had been in another region the last two years, my kids think they could have made the final four," says Henson.

Leading the unbeaten Aggies against the outmanned Lobos were Jimmy Collins and Sam Lacey, who spent the summer doing construction work together in Syracuse, N.Y. They wrecked New Mexico with 25 and 19 points, respectively, with Collins getting 21 in the second half as the Aggies raced away from a 33-27 halftime lead.

Willie Long paced the losers with 28 points.

Three other members of The Associated Press' Top Twenty also saw action. Fourth-ranked Davidson trimmed Richmond 98-77, No. 7 North Carolina held off Virginia 80-76 and 12th-ranked Purdue walloped Dartmouth 82-58.

Doug Cook with 22 points and sophomore Brian Adrian with 20 sparked Davidson's 22nd consecutive triumph over Southern Conference opposition. Mike Maslo added 17 and Jerry Kroll 14.

Kenny Foster had 22 for Richmond, which dropped out of contention by going four minutes without a field goal after falling to within 20-17.

North Carolina trailed Virginia throughout the first half before six quick points by Lee Eggleston erased most of a seven-point deficit. The Tar Heels took the lead for good at 52-50 on two free throws by Jim Delaney.

Carolina's Charley Scott led all scorers with 23 points.

Purdue ran off 21 straight points early in the second half after previously unbeaten Dartmouth had tied the score at 43.

George Faerber had seven of the 21 and finished with a game high 18. The Boilermakers again played without the injured Rick Mount, who is expected back for the ECAC Holiday Festival in New York beginning Dec. 27.

Elsewhere, North Texas State handed Cincinnati its first setback 89-71 in the Missouri Valley Conference opener for both sides. Joe Hamilton and Crest Whitaker split 46 points for the winners.

Jeff Haliburton pumped in 26 points to lead the Bulldogs over Nevada-Reno 101-75 and 6-foot-11 Bill Smith scored 21 points and Bob McDaniel 19 as Syracuse drubbed Westminster of Pennsylvania 89-51.

Wichita State opened its Missouri Valley campaign with an 82-78 triumph over St. Louis as Greg Carney hit three of his 23 points in the final 43 seconds.

In a doubleheader at Philadelphia, La Salle struggled by West Chester 92-80 and St. Joseph's outlasted Providence 68-65. Yale won an Ivy League game from Brown 64-58. Jack Langer, Yale's cause celebre after being ruled ineligible by the Eastern College Athletic Conference for participating in the unsanctioned Maccabiah Games, scored two points.

Tigers, Wolves Continue Unbeaten In League Race

The Powers-Spalding Tigers and Carney Wolves kept their slates clean Tuesday night in Skyline Conference contest, as the Tigers upended the Pembine Panthers 100-51 and Carney outlasted Felch 70-63.

In the only other conference game played last night, the Hermansville Redskins fell to Channing by a score of 83-48.

Dick Smith and Kim Riedy led the Powers-Spalding quint to its fifth straight victory with 41 and 31 points respectively. Smith, the top scorer in the Escanaba area with 159 points, tossed 19 field goals and three free throws for his total, while his teammate Riedy canned 15 field goals and one free throw.

The Tigers shot an amazing 65 per cent from the floor in the game, hitting on 46 of 68 field goal attempts. They used a full court press to hold Pembine scoreless for the first five minutes of the game and came up with 15 steals.

Pembine got double figure scoring from Bob Kristoff with 16 points and John Dill and Bob Russ with 10 points each.

Carney's John Perras tossed in 35 points to pace the Wolves to their fourth straight victory, hitting 16 field goals and three free throws. As a team, Carney hit on 30 of 75 field goal attempts and outrebounded Felch 54 to 26.

The only other Carney player to hit double figures was 6 foot 5 inch sophomore Ed Benson, who tossed in 15 points.

The Felch team got good scoring from long range and were in the game until the last five minutes of the fourth quarter. Carney went in to a man-to-man defense in the final period and held Felch to just nine points.

Stewart Sundholm led Felch in the scoring department with 28 points and he got help from Bill Edberg with 15 points and Don Charlevoix with 14.

Hermansville fell behind by 19 points at halftime and was never able to get back into the game in their loss to Channing. John Dani paced the Hermansville attack with 18 points and Tim Faccio chipped in with 10.

Channing got double figure scoring from Don Minerick with 22 points, Dan Olson with 19, Marc Cambray with 14 and Mark Smith with 10.

In preliminary games, the Powers junior varsity scored a 92-62 victory over Pembine, Carney trounced Felch 74-13 and Channing upended Hermansville 74-35.

"Let's put it out in the open," says Sports Editor Rick Talley in Chicago Today. "Jim Dooley should be fired as coach of the Chicago Bears. George Halas Sr., chairman of the board, should do it. And if he doesn't, he should at least bore two holes into Dooley's shoulder blades and insert hooks, onto which could be attached strings."

"All Puppets should have strings—and that's all Dooley represents in his present capacity with the Bears."

Super linebacker Dick Butkus' 5-year contract ends Jan. 1. He says a number of Bear players want to be traded or cut and adds: "Look at me... My contract is up, and I want to play with a winning team."

The Detroit Pistons were helplessly topped a full 19 points Tuesday night in their National Basketball Association play against the Boston Celtics who smashed them 117-98.

The Celtics moved a half game ahead of Detroit by rattling off 11 straight points in the last 1 1/2 minutes of the third quarter for a decisive 19-point lead.

Boston's Larry Siegfried and Detroit's Terry Dischinger exchanged punches with 2:25 left, but Siegfried finished with 27 points while Jimmy Walker had 28 for the Pistons.

The once powerful Celtics, who ruled the National Basketball Association for so many years, have had their troubles this season in the absence of retired Bill Russell, but Tuesday night offered some hope—they moved out of the Eastern Division cellar with their victory over Detroit.

Pistons Smashed By Celtic Quint

By The Associated Press

On the other hand, the once lowly Knicks, who spent so much time at the bottom of the division during Boston's heyday years, have become the scrouge of the league, until the last week. The Knicks lost their third straight and fourth game in five outings, dropping a 125-124 overtime decision to Atlanta.

In other games, San Diego overcame a nine-point fourth quarter deficit and beat Chicago 110-101. Philadelphia crushed Phoenix 141-119, and San Francisco turned back Seattle 125-119.

Walt Hazzard's free throw with 44 seconds left gave Atlanta a decisive 125-122 lead that offset Dick Barnett's final two free throws for the Knicks. New York blew several chances to win, first in regulation time when Dave DeBusschere, who had 27 points, made only one of three free throws for a 113-113 tie with 13 seconds to go, and again when DeBusschere missed a jump shot with four seconds left in overtime and Willis Reed fielded the rebound in the last second.

Darrell Imhoff scored a career high 28 points and Billy Cunningham 27 as Philadelphia rolled to its 11th victory in 14 starts.

San Francisco moved into second place in the West at the expense of Seattle as Chicago dropped to third. Jeff Mullins topped the Warriors with 31 points while Bob Rule kept the Sonics in contention with 34.

Crusader Cagers Upend Stephenson Five 59-41

STEPHENSON — Coach Gordy LeDuc and his Holy Name Crusaders got back on the winning track Tuesday night against the Stephenson Eagles, as they came up with a 59-41 victory in the non-conference contest.

Stephenson played its typical slowed down, controlled offense game, but the Crusaders jumped out to an early 12-point lead in the first quarter as Dan Young scored six points. Bill Skradski five and Steve Kleiman four.

Skradski scored eight of Holy Name's 11 points in the third quarter on six for eight from the free throw line and one field goal. The Eagles still held on to the ball and Holy Name took a 28-13 lead at halftime.

Stephenson cut Holy Name's margin back to 12 points in the third quarter as Barry Hafeman and Don Anderson each hit five points, while Kleiman kept the Crusaders ahead with five points of his own.

Young got the Crusaders rolling in the fourth quarter with four field goals and Holy Name upped its margin to as many as 20 points.

Again the Crusader defense showed up well, allowing Stephenson just three field goals in the first half and 11 for the game. Joe Harvey, Holy Name's top rebounder, did well while he was in the game, but foul trouble caused him to be replaced by Dave Maskart, who came up with six points and did a good job on the boards.

Young paced the Crusader attack with 18 points, all on field goals, while Skradski chipped in with 15 and Kleiman 11. The only Stephenson player to hit double figures was Hafeman with 17 points, as he hit 11 straight free throws.

Holy Name, which lost its only game of the season at the free throw line, improved somewhat at the charity stripe, canning 13 of 23 attempts for 56 per cent. Stephenson made seven of 11 shots at the gift line.

The Crusaders get back into action Friday night, playing host to the Iron Mountain Mountaineers in a Great Northern Conference contest. The Mountaineers have a 1-1 mark in league play and the Crusaders have yet to meet a conference opponent.

In the preliminary game, the Stephenson junior varsity handed the Holy Name JV's their first loss of the season by a 57-50 margin.

Indians Blast Rock Quintet

CHAMPION—The Champion Indians, with an eye on the Skyline Conference title under new coach Dominic Jacobetti, former Negaunee St. Paul and Northern Michigan University basketball star, topped Rock Monday night by a 101-69 count.

Led by high-scoring Larry Laitala who meshed 36 points and 145 in three games this season, the Indians had little trouble with the invaders.

Champion broke through the Rock defense for 30 points in the first period then added 25 in the second stanza for 55-34 halftime bulge.

Kirk Luke, a 6-3 pivotman for the Indians grabbed 26 rebounds while throwing in 13 points. Gary Danielson netted 20 points to keep the Indians on the run.

Rock got 30 points from Tom Lippens and 16 from Larry Koski but found the team effort of Champion too much to cope with on the home hardwood of the Indians.

The win was Champion's fourth against a single loss. Republic has been the only team able to stop the veteran Champion squad this season.

Alligator Crop Could Get Help From Indians

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The state Indian Affairs Commission has decided to put Florida's Seminoles and Miccosukees into the alligator-raising business in 1970.

The purpose is twofold: to lift the income of the 2,200 Indians above poverty level and offset the ravages of alligator poachers who now ship some 15,000 hides a year to black markets.

Ross Allen, a commission member, said the proposal has the backing of Gov. Claude Kirk; Joe Dan Osceola, president of the Seminole tribes; and Buffalo Tiger, chief of the Miccosukee.

The project will start next year with the designation of Indians as authorized alligator keepers on Florida's four reservations—Brighton, Miccosukee, Dania and Big Cypress.

A state permit is required for keeping alligators in captivity.

Allen said that if the reptiles thrive under care of the Indians, the plan will be enlarged by 1972 to include breeding—a delicate science because the female alligator mates reluctantly in captivity.

At that point the animal farming will be extended from the reservations into the watery wilds of the Everglades, chief habitat of the American alligator.

The Indians then will be expected to protect the wild alligators from the poachers, Allen said.

As productivity grows, the first goal will be to restock the Everglades.

Step two will be sale of the animals to wildlife exhibits, zoos and research organizations across the world.

When production really gets into high gear, Allen said, the Indians should be able to saturate the alligator leather market with legal hides.

The chief sources of cash now for the Indians are cattle farming and tourism, including the sale of trinkets and boat rides through the swamps.

Writer Honored

LONDON (AP) — Noel Coward, just turned 70, was lauded by Lord Mountbatten of Burma as "14 different people" at a dinner in the playwright's honor Tuesday night.

Mountbatten noted that Coward had written 27 plays and 251 songs so far.

Actor Sir Laurence Olivier, in another speech, described Coward as "utterly unspoiled."

"That's what you think," muttered Coward.
